

News & Events

Faculty Resource: National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity (NCFDD)

Salisbury University has institutional membership to the National Center for Faculty Development and Diversity \(NCFDD\) network that helps faculty achieve extraordinary writing and research productivity while maintaining a full and healthy life off campus. The NCFDD also has a Toolkit for teaching in tough times that includes strategies for classroom incivility, preparing for controversial conversations, finding joy as an academic and an informative dialogue about "Managing Stress in Stressful Times."

As of April 12, there have been 90 unique uses at SU and 534 active sessions utilized by SU faculty independently and through Faculty Learning Communities (FLCs) such as those in the Writing FLC. All faculty have access NCFDD resources so how do you participate?

Firoi 1 0 0 1 48.59 3272 10.56 f1 0 0 1 18.63 42.41 Tm1 g1 0 JTE 24 28.1 4387 195.05 reW*

Then select Salisbury University from the list of institutional members.

You will then be asked to fill out profile information, such as adding your SU email to confirm your membership, and selecting a password to access your NCFDD account. Once you have finished establishing your account, you will be taken to a dashboard where you can start exploring NCFDD resources.