

Grant to Analyze Mediation

SU and its Center for Conflict Resolution (below) received a $750,000 grant from the Maryland Judiciary, the state's judicial system, to analyze the use of alternative dispute resolution (ADR). Jurisdictions statewide are using mediation and ADR programs as other options to litigation in both civil and misdemeanor criminal cases. The University is working in partnership with Community Mediation Maryland and Renbar Consulting, LLC, to assess these practices. Initiated by the Judiciary, the two-part study includes an analysis of the cost-benefits of ADR versus traditional litigation. It also

Political Leaders Share Insights

During the last academic year, speakers of political importance visited SU. Maryland's former Secretary of Labor, Licensing and Regulation Alexander M. Sanchez (above) keynoted SU's Latino Heritage Month celebration with the talk "Protecting the American Dream: Maryland's Commitment to